

5 Upcoming Conservation Plans

Kettle Wind/ Paul House - Murphy

Betterly - Murphy

Rolband - Hatfield

Anna Johnson - Bourdon

Possibly Tony Jones, Butch Beard, and/or Wally Covington (all have been contacted) - Slazinski

Mr. Yankey commented that staff met the day before the TRC meeting and have a plan; there are future conservation plans in the works.

6 Update on monthly engineering meeting with DCR

Update on Lauster:

The contractor made the appropriate corrections, which was verified by DCR engineering staff. After Mr. Yankey met with Ms. Cross, it was noted that the practice had been overpaid. The District will payback the amount of $6,907.36 to the VACS program. Otherwise, the practice is complete.

7 Update on carry-over projects

Faulk has been canceled. A couple of other contracts are under construction.

8 Update on VCAP

Mrs. Slazinski noted that one of the biggest changes for PY2026 is that the ranking sheets have been updated. She also informed the TRC that a Google form for requesting a VCAP site visit is live and on the District's website. Mr. Murphy is working with 3 new people. He is also working with Occoquan Point, a VCAP practice that had been approved by the VCAP Steering Committee last month.

9 Discuss small farm pilot project

This pilot project was initiated by the James River Soil and Water District. It would be aimed to provide cost-share to farms under 5 acres.

The District was asked if we'd be interested in participating. Mr. Yankey cannot think of anyone who would be interested as it's not cost effective. Mr. Bolles could not think of anyone either. Ms. Cross and Ms. Slazinski also agreed. The District will not take part of the pilot project.

10 Other discussions

Ms. Reed mentioned that she had been contacted by someone who had drainage concerns. This person sent Ms. Reed a video that showed a huge rainfall event; she will forward the District further information.

Mr. Bolles mentioned a regional salt meeting, and that some groups are doing salt monitoring. He will discuss this with Ms. Tangiri and Ms. Lower.
